

Pedro Arzuaga
Short Biography

Pedro Arzuaga was born in Montevideo in 1965. He is an Electronic Engineer graduated from the Universidad de la República del Uruguay and has more than 20 years of experience in the design of active medical implantable systems. He joined CCC Medical Devices in 1989 and has since actively participated in the design and development of several implantable devices including cardiac pacemakers and neurostimulators. In many of these projects he was appointed as the Project Manager. Since 2005 he serves as the Engineering Manager at CCC.